Foreword

The term 'Sriramodantam' is composed of the words 'Srirama' and 'udantam' meaning 'the story of Srirama'. Sriramodantam is a 'laghukavyam' (minor poetical composition) that has been in use as the first text in old Sanskrit Curriculum of Kerala for last five centuries. As per this curriculum the students were taught this text along with Amarakosa and Siddharoopam immediately after they had learnt the Sanskrit alphabets (Varnamala). This Kavya, which is a highly abridged version of "Valmiki Ramayana", was used as a tool to teach effectively Vibhakti, Sandhi, Samasa\(^1\), etc to young pupils.

There will hardly be a Sanskrit knowing person from Kerala who does not know by-heart at least a few verses of this work, which begins with the verse "श्रीपतिः प्रणिपत्याः ह्रीवत्साक्कितवक्षसं श्रीरामोदन्तमार्यायस्ये श्रीवाच्चायकप्रकरितिन्तम्". Though the traditional style of teaching Sanskrit exists no more in Kerala, the 'balakanda' of Sriramodantam found a place in the

\(^1\) Case endings, conjunction of words and compound of words
Sanskrit text books prepared by the State board till a few decades back. This shows how significant a role this work had played in imparting basic lessons of Sanskrit to the young minds.

It is a great pity that the author of Sriramodantam is unknown. The author, in his inimitable and simple style, has narrated, in just 200 verses, the seven kandas of Ramayana that was expounded by Valmiki in 24000 verses.

Any suggestion for improving this translation is welcome.

(Story of Sri Rama)

The Chapter on Childhood

Bowing to Lakshmi’s consort, Vishnu, who has a mark, Srivatsa, on his chest, I shall relate the story of Sri Rama, as narrated by Valmiki.

Long ago there was a Rakshasa named Ravana who was the son of sage Visravas. Ravana’s

\[^2\] A particular sect of asuras, demonical beings younger brothers were Kumbhakarna and Vibheeshana.

By their severe penance, they made Brahma appear before them and asked for desired boons from Brahma who is affectionate towards his devotees.

Ravana chose not to be killed by anyone except humans. Kumbhakarna wanted to surpass all devas, instead asked for constant sleep, by slip of tongue\(^3\).

\(^3\) Kumbhakarna actually desired for निर्देवत्वम् (surpassing gods), but ended up asking for निद्रावल्म (long sleep) instead.
Vibheeshana, who was endowed with noble qualities, asked for devotion to Vishnu. Giving them these boons, Brahma disappeared.

रावणस्तु ततो गत्वा रणे जित्वा धनाधिपं।
लङ्कापुरी पुष्पकं च हृत्वा तत्रावसत्स्तु सुखं ॥ ६ ॥

Ravana then won a battle against the Lord of riches, Kubera, took from him the city of Lanka and the Pushpaka\(^4\) and lived there happily.

यातुधानास्तत: सर्वं रसातलनिवासिनः।
दशाननं समात्रित्य लङ्कं च सुखमावसन। ॥ ७ ॥

Then, all the Rakshasas who were living in Rasatala\(^5\) took refuge in ten-headed Ravana and lived happily in Lanka.

तस्यामुत्पाद्यामास मेघनादांहयं सुतं ॥ ८ ॥

\(^4\) A divine aerial chariot
\(^5\) One of the seven lower worlds
Ravana married Mandodari, daughter of Maya, and begot a son in her called, Meghanada.

Ravana conquered the earth and Rasatala, tormented all the worlds and carried away the beautiful women.

Dishonoring the Vedic rituals, Ravana oppressed the twice-born\(^6\). Accompanied by his son, he defeated Devendra\(^7\) in battle.

\(^6\) The Brahmins

\(^7\) The chief of the gods
Fetching the wish-yielding trees (from Heaven) through his servants, Ravana planted them in Lanka and lived there for a long time.

Devas⁸, then, approached Brahma and related to him all the misdeeds of Ravana.

Having heard their woes, Brahma went with devas to the shores of the ocean of milk⁹, propitiated Vishnu by various hymns.

⁸ Gods or deities
⁹
Then Vishnu, the enemy of Asuras, appeared before them and asked Brahma why he had come there with devas.

Then Brahma told Vishnu about the troubles caused by Ravana. Hearing that, Vishnu cheered up Brahma and said:

“Enough of the fears, Oh Brahma, go back along with devas. I will take birth as son of King Dasaratha and will kill the ten-headed Ravana.”
“Let all devas, through part of their souls\(^{10}\), take birth as monkeys\(^{11}\) on the earth to help me in slaying Ravana.”

10 Puranas describe many such instances where a deva takes birth, with a specific mission on Earth, out of only a part of his soul; he continues to exist in Heaven too.

11 Vanaras were not ordinary monkeys, but ape-like humanoids. Especially those Vanaras, who assisted Rama in his battle with Ravana, were partial incarnations of gods.
Brahma had created Jambavan long ago. Similarly all other devas created numerous monkeys.

Vali became the leader of those monkeys and with all of them inhabited Kishkindha\textsuperscript{12}.

There was a king called Dasaratha who belonged to the clan of the sun. Though he had three wives, he had no sons.

\textsuperscript{12} An ancient kingdom of the monkeys in South India
Then, on the advice of Sumantra\textsuperscript{13}, he brought sage Rishyasringa and got Putrakameshti\textsuperscript{14} conducted with Rishyasringa as the priest.

From the fire arose a divine being, holding in his hand a cup of milk porridge and gave it to the king saying “Feed this to your wives.”

He took it and fed his wives the porridge immediately. As a result, the queens became pregnant through the king.

\textsuperscript{13} Chief minister of king Dasaratha
\textsuperscript{14} A Yajna (Vedic ritual) conducted with a desire to get a son.
In due course, Kausalya gave birth to Ramachandra, who was a source of joy to virtuous men like Sun to lotus. Kaikeyi gave birth to Bharata.

Then, Sumitra gave birth to twins, Lakshmana and Satruighna. The king got their birth-ceremonies and other rituals performed by the priests.

The four princes grew up and were affectionate with one another. They gained mastery in all branches of learning.

Then, one day the great sage Viswamitra visited the king and desiring protection (from the Rakshasas) of his Yajnas he sought the help of Rama who was equal to Kartikeya\(^{15}\) in valour.

As advised by Vasishtha the king, with great sorrow, entrusted Rama and Lakshmana to Kausika\(^{16}\).

Taking them with him, he taught them the chants of Bala and Atibala\(^{17}\) as well as all the divine astras\(^{18}\).

\(^{15}\) Son of Siva; He was commander-in-chief of devas

\(^{16}\) Another name for Viswamitra

\(^{17}\) Two chants that prevent hunger and sleep.

\(^{18}\) According Hindu Puranas, an astra is a supernatural weapon, presided over by a specific deity. Use of an astra requires knowledge of its specific mantra.
While proceeding along with his brother, Rama, at the behest of Kausika, killed Tadaka who was harressing people.

Then, Kausika along with Rama reached Siddhasrama. As the Yajna started the Rakshasas appeared.

With an astra Rama hurled Maricha into the ocean, killed the Rakshasas led by Subahu and protected the Yajna of the sage.
Then, led by Kausika, Rama along with his brother, after redeeming Ahalya\textsuperscript{20} of her curse, went to the king of Mithila.

There, Rama was received with respect by Janaka\textsuperscript{21}. At the behest of Kausika Rama broke the bow of Siva kept in connection with the marriage of Sita\textsuperscript{22}.

Then, the King of Mithila invited Dasaratha through his messengers and gave away Sita and her cousins (in marriage) to Rama and his brothers.

\textsuperscript{20} Wife of the sage Gautama; she turned into a stone due to a curse.
\textsuperscript{21} The king of Mithila and father of Sita
\textsuperscript{22} King Janaka had made a proclamation that only one, who handled the bow of Siva, could marry Sita.
Having married, at the bidding of his elders, Rama and his brothers returned (to Ayodhya) after being greatly honoured by Janaka.

After defeating the furious Bhargavarama who came to Rama upon hearing about the breaking of the bow of Siva, Rama returned to Ayodhya.

Then Rama, the prince of the Kakutstha clan, who brought happiness to everyone by his actions, lived in Ayodhya happily with Sita.

Thus ends the chapter on childhood of Rama

23 An incarnation of Vishnu; son of sage Jamadagni in the clan of sage Bhrigu; he is also known as Parasu Rama.
Meanwhile Bharata along with Satrughna went to the house of his uncle Yudhajit.

Then the king, after consulting with his ministers, started with joy preparations for coronation of Rama.
Her mind being corrupted by Manthara, Kaikeyi requested the honest king for two boons formerly promised to her by him.

The king gave her the two vicious boons of Rama’s remaining in the forest and Bharata’s getting the kingdom.

Kaikeyi immediately ordered Rama to go to the forest. Rama took leave of all the elders and proceeded to the forest.
Seeing him leaving, Sita and Lakshmana followed him. Leaving their houses at once, all the citizens (of Ayodhya) also followed Rama.

Deceiving the dejected citizens sleeping at night, Raghava departed in a chariot driven by Sumantra.

Reaching Sringiberapuram on the banks of Ganges, Rama stayed there for overnight accepting the hospitality of Guha.

24 Rama
25 The chieftain of Nishadas, a tribe of hunters and fishermen
Taking leave of the charioteer Rama, along with Sita and Lakshmana, crossed the river Ganges in a boat rowed by Guha.

On reaching (the hermitage of) sage Bharadwaja, Rama paid obeisance to the sage and was welcomed by the sage. As advised by him, Rama lived happily in Chitrakoota.

Then Sumantra, grief-stricken, went back to Ayodhya and told the king all details about Raghava.

26 Sumantra, the chief minister of king Dasaratha
27 A mountain on the banks of the river Mandakini
Hearing Sumantra’s words, the king’s mind was drowned in great sorrow. Crying “Rama, Rama”, the king left his body and went to heaven.

At the instance of Vasishtha, the ministers preserved the body of the king and sent messengers and brought Bharata from his uncle’s house.

Hearing of the death of his father from Kaikeyi, Bharata, along with his younger brother, duly performed the king’s cremation and funeral ceremonies.
In spite of persuasion by the ministers, Bharata, along with the citizens, went to the forest to bring Rama back.

After reaching Rama who was staying in Chitrakoota wearing bark and matted hair, Bharata requested him to rule the kingdom assisted by Vasishtha and other Brahmins.

Rama assured Bharata that he would return to the city after staying in the forest for fourteen years, gave his sandals and sent him back.
Taking the sandals from Rama with a dejected heart, Bharata ruled the country living in Nandigrama.

राघवस्तु गिरेस्तस्मात् गत्वात्रिं समवन्दत।
तत्पलिस्तु तदा सीतां भूषणैः स्वेच्छास्यतः ॥ १९॥

Rama then went from the mountain (Chitrakoota) to the sage Atri and paid respects to him. The sage’s wife then adorned Sita with her own ornaments.

उषित्वातु निशामेका आथमे तस्य राघवः।
विवेश दण्डकारण्यं सीतात्तुष्मणसंयुतः ॥ २०॥

After spending a night in the hermitage (of the sage Atri), Rama, with Sita and Lakshmana, entered the Dandaka28 forest.

Thus ends the Chapter on Ayodhya of Sri Ramodantam.

28 A forest in the Indo-Gangetic Valley
While travelling in the forest, Rama killed ill-fated Viradha who (after attacking them) was carrying Rama along with Lakshmana and Sita.

He then went the hermitage of Sarabhanga, witnessed his departure to the heaven and vowed to kill the Rakshasas at the request of sages.
From there Rama went to the sage Suteekshna, saluted him and was honoured by him. Thereafter he reached the hermitage of the sage Agastya and saluted him.

रामाय वैष्णवं चार्पं ऐन्द्रे तूणीयुगं तथा।
ब्राह्म चार्चं च खं च प्रद्धों कुंभसंभवः ॥४॥

The sage, who was born from a pot, gave Rama the bow of Lord Vishnu, pair of quivers of Indra and the arrow and sword of Brahma.

तत: स गच्छन् काकुःत्स्थः समागम्य जटायुषम्।
वैदेह्या पात्नायेणं श्रद्धं पितृवत्सलं ॥५॥

Then Rama went and met Jatayu, a friend of his father, and entrusted him with the protection of Sita.

तत: पद्धवर्टां प्राय्य तत्र लक्ष्मणनिमित्तम्।
पर्णाशालमध्यवास सीतया सहितं सुखम् ॥६॥
Then he reached Panchavati and lived happily with Sita, in a leaf-hut built by Lakshmana.

There Rama was once approached by the lustful Soorpanakha. On being rejected by him, she chose Lakshmana who too rejected her.

Thereupon, the lustful rakshasi again chose Rama who was handsome like Manmatha and upon being rejected again the rakshasi attacked Sita in anger.

30 A sacred place on the southern bank of the river Godavari
31 Step-sister of Ravana
32 God of love
Then her (Soorpanakha) nose and ears were cut off by Lakshmana in anger. She went to Janasthana and narrated the incidents to Khara.

Upon hearing this, wrathful Khara, along with an army of Rakshasas led by Dhooshana and Trisira, came to kill Raghava.

Immediately entrusting Sita to the care of Lakshmana, Rama, embodiment of easy valour, killed Khara along with his followers.

33 A part of the forest Dandaka which lies in the basin of Godavari
34 Step-brother of Ravana and brother of Soorpanakha
35 Brothers of Khara
Then Soorpanakha, full or sorrow, went to Lanka and recounted all the happenings to Ravana.

Hearing this Ravana made up his mind to abduct Sita. Reaching the hermitage of Maricha Ravana demanded his help.

Taking the form of a golden deer, he roamed in front of Sita and she urged her husband to get her that deer.

36 The uncle of Ravana
Entrusting Sita to Lakshmana’s care, Rama chased the deer which was running fast deep into the forest.

Rama killed the deer and Maricha assumed his true form and gave up his life screaming, “Oh Sita, Oh Lakshmana”\(^{37}\).

Upon being repeatedly pressed by Sita on hearing this cry, Lakshmana prayed to the Devas for her safety and went in search of Rama.

\(^{37}\) Maricha imitated Rama in his cry to mislead Sita
Taking this opportunity, Ravana, assuming the form of an ascetic, went to Sita, caught hold of her and happily took her by air.\(^{38}\)

Then, seeing Janaki being taken away, Jatayu fought Ravana ferociously with his beak, wings and nails.

Ravana maimed him (Jatayu) with his sword Chandráhasa, felled him on the earth and took Sita to his palace.

\(^{38}\) In the aerial vehicle named Pushpaka

\(^{39}\) Sita, the daughter of King Janaka
Having seated Sita in Asoka grove, Ravana bid Rakshasis\(^\text{40}\) to take care of her.

After slaying Maricha and hearing the happenings from Lakshmana whom he met on his way back, Rama returned to the hut grief stricken.

Not seeing Sita in the hut, Rama and Lakshmana, while searching for Sita in the forest, saw Jatayu, the king of eagles, with his wings cut off.

\(^{40}\) Female demons
Rama heard from him the news of Sita. Later, when Jatayu died, Rama and Lakshmana cremated his body and performed the obsequies.

Later, Lakshmana swiftly cut off the ear and nose of Ayomukhi who insulted him on the way.

Rama and Lakshmana cut off the hands of the demon Kabandha who had grabbed them and then, cremated his body at his request.

41 A Rakshasi who had iron face
Assuming divine form he (Kabandha) departed for Heaven after telling Rama, in order to trace Sita, to go to Sugreeva, who was in Rishyamooka Mountain.

Then, Rama, comforted (by Kabandha’s words), went to the hermitage of Sabari. After being worshipped by her, Rama with Lakshmana reached Pampa.

Thus ends the Chapter on “Forest” of Sri Ramodantam.
Then, as ordered by Sugreeva, Hanuman came to Rama and Lakshmana and hearing their story he brought them to Sugreeva.

He, then, told Rama’s story to Sugreeva and made Rama and Sugreeva form a treaty in front of Fire$^{42}$.

$^{42}$ It is a tradition to make rituals, pledges, etc in front of sacred fire seeing it as the Universal witness, the Fire God Agni.
Then, Rama vowed, “I will kill Vali” and Sugreeva promised, “I will trace out Vaidehi\textsuperscript{43}”.

Then, Sugreeva told Rama the reason for his enmity with Vali and about the enormity of Vali’s strength.

\textit{Sugreeva} immediately showed him the body (skeleton) of Dundubhi\textsuperscript{44} and Rama kicked it with his toe to a great distance.

\textsuperscript{43} Another name of Sita

\textsuperscript{44} A demon in the form of a very huge buffalo that was demon slain by Vali; when Sugreeva showed to Rama the skeleton of this demon to show him how powerful Vali was, Rama kicked it with but a gentle force, and threw it many miles away.
He then showed seven Sala trees to Rama who pierced all of them with a single arrow and thus removed Sugreeva’s doubt (regarding Rama’s prowess).

Having reached Kishkindha along with Rama, Sugreeva roared with great joy provoking the king of monkeys.

Vali came out and heavily injured Sugreeva in the duel. Wounded all over the body, Sugreeva ran to Rama.

45 A very tall and stately tree; Its botanical name is Shorea Robusta
Being given an identification mark\textsuperscript{46} by Rama, \textit{Sugreeva}, before long, invited \textit{Vali} to fight again while Rama stood in hiding.

Then, wrathful \textit{Vali}, who was wearing a golden neck-lace, ignored the advice of \textit{Tara}\textsuperscript{47} and fought a very fierce battle with his brother.

Rama hit \textit{Vali} with an arrow and felled him to the ground. Recognizing that it was Rama (who had struck him) \textit{Vali} left the body and went to Heaven.

\textsuperscript{46} Rama could not kill Vali since he was not able to distinguish between Bali and Sugreeva. So, he put a flower garland around the neck of Sugreeva to distinguish him from Vali.

\textsuperscript{47} Wife of \textit{Vali}
Rama, who is affectionate towards those who take refuge in him, consoled Sugreeva who was in remorse and made him the king of monkeys.

Thereafter, Rama lived on the Malyavat Mountain along with Lakshmana for four months saddened by the separation of Sita.

Then, as directed by Rama, Lakshmana brought Sugreeva along with the monkeys led by leaders like Hanuman (to Malyavat).

48 This is a mountain range in the east coast of India (Eastern Ghats), that falls in the northern Tamil Nadu and southern Andhra Pradesh.
Sugreeva met Rama and, at his behest, commanded the monkeys to search in four directions for Sita.

Then Rama handed Hanuman a ring to win Sita’s trust. He took it and went (in search of Sita).

Searching for Sita, the monkeys led by Hanuman went southwards and reached the Vindhya Mountain.
At the lapse of the time allotted to them (to find Sita) they decided to give up their lives by fasting. At that moment, they heard the news about Sita from Sampati⁴⁹.

The monkeys lead by Angada reached the sea shore. None of them was capable of crossing the sea.

Roused by the words of praise about his power by Jambavan, Hanuman climbed the Mahendra Mountain.

Thus ends the Chapter on Kishkindha of Sri Ramodantam.

⁴⁹ Elder brother of Jatayu
The Chapter on “Exploits of Hanuman”

After crossing the Mainaka Mountain, saluting Surasa and tactfully killing Simhika, he reached the other side of the ocean.

Hanuman is said to be a partial incarnation of the god Vayu.

A mountain which stands immersed in the ocean.

Mother of serpents; she was sent by celestial beings to test Hanuman; he convinced her of his strength and got her blessings.

A giantess who tried to kill Hanuman by swallowing him.
After subduing the deity\(^{54}\) presiding over Lanka, Hanuman entered the city and while searching for Sita, saw Ravana asleep at night.

Not seeing Sita there (Ravana’s palace), while looking for her here and there Hanuman reached Asoka grove where he saw grieving Sita.

Climbing a tree, Hanuman hid himself completely among its leaves and sat there wondering whether or not she is Sita.

\(^{54}\) A goddess who was cursed by Brahma to become the watch-girl of the palace-gate tower of Ravana; she was relieved of her curse by Hanuman.
रावणस्तु तदाभ्येत्य मैथिलीं बुद्धार्दितः।
भाया भव ममेत्येवं बहुधा समयाचत ॥६॥

Then, Ravana came to Sita love-stricken and repeatedly implored to her to become his wife.

अहं त्वदनुगा न स्यं इत्येषा तं निराकरोऽ॥
काममन्युपरीतात्मा रावणोऽथ गृहं ययौ ॥७॥

Sita rejected him saying that she would not become his wife. Then, Ravana, lustful and angry, went back to his house.

गते तु रावणे सीतां प्रत्यं स मारुति:।
उच्चा रामस्य वृत्तान्तं प्रददौ चांगुलीयंकं ॥८॥

After Ravana left, Hanuman told news about Rama to wailing Sita and gave her Rama’s ring.

तत्समादाय वैदेही विलुप्त्य च भृशं पुनः।
चूडामणिं ददौं तस्य करे सा मारुते प्रियम् ॥९॥
Vaidehi took the ring and cried again bitterly and placed her favorite crest-jewel in Hanuman's hands.

Hanuman consoled her saying, "Devi! Do not grieve. Rama would wage battle against Ravana, slay him and take you back" and left (Asoka grove).

Being a diplomat, Hanuman after due consideration, destroyed that garden and killed Akshakumara and numerous other Rakshasas in fight.

55 Younger son of Ravana born to Mandodari
Then, Hanuman, who was bound by Indrajit in battle, apprised Ravana of Rama’s valour.

With his tail set on fire by the Rakshasas, Hanuman burnt whole Lanka and crossing the ocean joined the monkeys.

Accompanied by the monkeys, Hanuman went to Rama, narrated all his deeds (in Lanka) and gave Rama Sita’s crest-jewel.

Thus ends the Chapter on “Exploits of Hanuman” Of Sri Ramodantam

56 He who had defeated Indra, the chief of devas
Thereafter, Rama departed along with countless batches of monkeys led by Sugreeva and reached the shores of the ocean.

Then, Vibheeshana, expelled by his brother, approached Rama and was crowned as the king of Lanka by Rama, the destroyer of enemies.
Shown the way to cross the ocean by Varuna\textsuperscript{57}, Rama got the bridge built through Nala\textsuperscript{58} and passing through that bridge, reached Suvela Mountain (in Lanka).

As per the direction of Rama, the monkeys led by Neela laid siege to Lanka from all directions, holding trees and stones in their hands.

The monkeys, who were like lions in valor, roared after killing in battle the Rakshasas led by Prahasta as they came out as ordered by Ravana.

\textsuperscript{57} The lord of oceans
\textsuperscript{58} This monkey was the son of Visvakarma, the architect of devas
Highly courageous Sugreeva, Hanuman, Rama and Lakshmana, killed numerous Rakshasas in the battle.

Then, the son of Ravana, in the ensuing battle, tied Rama and Lakshmana by the Serpent Astra and they were set free by Garuda, the enemy of serpents.

Thereafter, Ravana too was defeated by Rama in the battle. Ravana woke up Kumbhakarna at once and bid him to kill Rama.
Then, in a fierce battle, Rama used the Indra Astra and killed Kumbhakarna who was devouring hoards of monkeys.

ततो रावणसन्धिष्ठो देवान्तकनरान्तको।
हनूमंदगदायिः तु निन्हन्तो रणमूर्धनीः। औ।

Then, Devantaka and Narantaka, sent by Ravana, were killed by Hanuman and Angada in the peak hour of battle.

अथातिकायमायान्तं रथमारुद्य वाहिनीम्।
अदवन् महाकायं लक्ष्मणश्रावधीच्छृः।। ११।।

Then, Lakshmana killed with arrows Atikaya, a huge bodied Rakshasa, who, coming in a chariot, wreaked havoc on the army.

ततो रावणसन्धिष्ठ: शक्कितं राघवों रणे।
बहास्पेण च तौ बद्ध वानराश्रावधीच्छृः।। १२।।

59 Sons of Ravana born to a Gandharva woman; Gandharva is a class of demigods regarded as the singers or musicians of devas.
60 Son of Ravana born to a Rakshasi called Dhanyamalini
Then, Indrajit, under the orders of Ravana, tied Rama and Lakshmana using the Brahma Astra in the battle and killed the monkeys with arrows.

Then, Hanuman went to the mountain of herbs, as per the advice of Jambavan, and not seeing the herbs on the mountain, became angry.

He uprooted and carried back the mountain itself (to Lanka) and brought back to life Rama and all others with the smell of the herbs.

61 Rama and Lakshmana lay unconscious due to impact of Brahma Astra. Jambavan, then, advised Hanuman to get the herbs which would bring them back to life.
Seeing his city, burnt by the monkeys, Ravana, out of fury, deputed two sons of Kumbhakarna to kill Rama and Lakshmana.

Then, seeing the two mighty Rakshasas destroying the armies, Rama killed Kumbha with arrows and Sugreeva killed Nikumbha.

Then Rama killed with arrows the Khara's son, who, sent by Ravana and was tormenting the monkeys with his arrows.

62 Kumbha and Nikumbha are the sons of Kumbhakarna
Ravana, with a sorrowful heart, commanded his son Indrajit, who was unconquerable, to kill Raghava in battle.

Indrajit, the winner of battles, left the city at once carrying a fake Sita in order to perplex everyone.

As the monkeys led by Hanuman watched, Indrajit, the winner of battles, slew Sita with a sharp sword.

Then, surrounded by all the monkeys, grieving Hanuman left the battle field and went to where Rama was.
After going close to Rama, Hanuman told him entire incidents. Hearing all these Rama collapsed.

At that time, Vibheeshana came there, saw Rama unconscious and after consoling the grieving monkeys, told the following words (to Rama).

मिथ्या विषादं सन्त्याय जगत्तः यवयक है प्रभो।
श्रुणु मेंभिहितं वाक्यं ज्ञात् राहणिमानसं। ॥ २४॥
दुरात्मना कृता माया राक्षसेन्द्रसुतेन वै।
निन्निर्भिलायां होमं तु कृतं तेनाधुना किल। ॥ २५॥
लक्ष्मणं प्रेषयाधृवं मया सह समत्रिणाः।
कृते होमे तत्र रिपुरज्यों भवति ध्रुवम्। ॥ २६॥
“Oh Lord of the Universe! Give up false sorrow and listen to my words spoken in your interest and knowing Indrajit’s mind.

This is only a delusion created by the evil minded son of the Rakshasa king. A Homa is being performed by Indrajit now at Nikumbhila.

Send today itself Lakshmana and some ministers along with me (to Nikumbhila), for if the enemy completes the Homa, he will surely become invincible.”

Rama told Lakshmana, “Go there immediately along with your friend Vibheeshana and kill the son of the Rakshasa king.”

63 A fire ritual in which oblations are offered to gods by pouring ghee into the consecrated fire, often performed, for fulfillment of a particular desire.
64 A particular spot in the forest outside the city of Lanka
Taking leave of Rama, Lakshmana and Vibheeshana, hurried to Nikumbhila where Indrajit was camped.

Vibheeshana, who was a righteous soul, pointed out his nephew to Lakshmana who struck the Rakshasas with heaps of arrows.

After battling for a long time, Lakshmana, using the Indra astra, cut off the head of the Ravana’s son in wrath.
Hearing about the murder of his son, Ravana became crestfallen, feeble hearted, his limbs turned weak and his senses agitated. He lamented (as follows).

"Seeing today Indrajit killed in battle, my life has become a waste and my words devoid of meaning.

"O my brave son! Getting killed by a human, who is an insignificant foot soldier, banished from his own country, where have you gone leaving me alive?
“Conquering Indra, you forcibly bound him, brought him to Lanka and held him captive by your valour.

“Brahma had to pacify you and got the king of devas released. Where have you, so unassailable, gone today leaving me?

“O son! Tell me now. What shall I do? Where shall I go? Without delay take me also to where you have gone.

“O son! There is no one equal to you in this world. I was proud that I am the father of such a son.
“Valorous Rakshasa leaders like Kumbhakarna, Dhoomraksha, Vajradamshtra and Prahasta have all been killed.

“O my son! I didn’t take to heart the loss of all these great Rakshasas and was not worried as I relied on your strength.”

After lamenting thus in a prolonged manner, Ravana overcame his grief and became livid with anger.

रथं सूत! मयाग्रे तव क्षिप्रं कुरु जच्छिणः।
रामं सलक्ष्यं हन्तुं निर्गमिष्याम्यं गृहात्। ॥ ४१॥
“O Charioteer! Bring the chariot at once in front of me who am eager to win. I am proceeding from my home to slay Rama and Lakshmana.”

Saying thus, Ravana went in the charioteer-driven chariot and engaged in a fierce battle with Rama.

Then, Rama, the embodiment of righteousness, seated in Indra’s chariot brought by Matali, glowed like the rising Sun.

As the assembly of devas watched, Rama, the best among the virtuous, enraged by the abduction of Sita, fought a tumultuous battle (with Ravana).
Then, on the words of counsel by Agastya, the victorious Rama, using Brahmastra, slew Ravana, the enemy of all worlds.

On hearing about the death of her dearest husband, Mandodari, much afflicted with grief, went to the battle field and cried like an osprey.

As directed by Rama, Vibheeshana and other rakshasas cremated Ravana, whose life had come to an end.
Then, as attested by god Agni, Rama found Sita very chaste and on the advice of devas, took Sita to his father.

"O Rama! This act of yours, which is fearful to all beings and which was performed by you for the sake of Sita, is appropriate indeed. She is Lakshmi and you are Vishnu."

Becoming honoured by devas and sages with the above words, Lakshmana was pleased and Rama believed it.

Then, Rama, who was righteous, honest, generous and victorious, got the coronation of Vibheeshana performed by Lakshmana.

Thereafter, Rama, the lord of the Universe, boarded the Pushpaka along with his wife, brother, friends and reached.

Curious to see Sita, all the female monkeys residing in Kishkindha entered the Pushpaka Vimana⁶⁷.

Then, Rama, wishing to see Bharata, reached the hermitage of Bharadwaja (on his way) and was detained there by the sage.

Then, Rama sent Hanuman to Bharata who, not seeing Rama, wanted very much to end his by entering into the fire.

There, Rama, his brother and friends were received with due respect by the great sage (Bharadwaja) who was overcome with joy.
Thereafter, Rama went to Bharata, the destroyer of enemies, entered Ayodhya with him at once and was greeted by the mothers.

Then, all the residents of Ayodhya joyfully went to Rama and told him, “We all feel blessed”.

Just as the Chataka\(^{68}\) birds and the peacocks seeing the clouds or the mothers seeing their babies, all the citizens felt great joy (upon Rama’s arrival).

Then, Vasishtha and other priests along with the ministers joyfully performed Rama’s coronation just as the eight Vasus performed the coronation of Indra.

During the coronation celebration Sugreeva and other the monkey chieftains were suitably honoured with garlands, scents, cloths and ornaments.

Honoured specially with a pearl garland by Sita, Hanuman felt as happy as he was by looking at Sita.
Kausalya, who was very affectionate towards her son, adorned all the female monkeys with ornaments, cloth, sandal and saffron.

As bid by Rama Sugreeva and all the monkeys left for Kishkindha, saddened at separation from Rama.

Taking permission from Rama, Vibheeshana, who was very pious and eternally living and was instrumental for the victory of Lanka battle, left for Lanka.

69 Vibheeshana one among the seven Chiranjeevis i.e. those said to live forever.
Rama, the sinless, after ascending the throne of his father, with his brothers in attendance, shone like Vishnu in heaven.

With the consent of Lakshmana, Rama gave the position of crown prince to Bharata, the immeasurably great and dearer to Rama than his life.

Those four great men, who were the best among the descendants of Raghu, along with their spouses, shone in their city like moon among stars in the sky.

Thus ends the Chapter on “Battle” of Sri Ramodantam.

Rama forsook Sita on account of the scandal by ignorant people that the king (Rama) took back his wife who was blemished by Ravana.

Then, knowing this, Valmiki brought pregnant Sita to his hermitage, consoled her and let her live there happily.

Then, at the request of the sages and on the orders of Rama, Satrughna killed Lavanasura in a battle and protected the sages.

While Rama was performing a Yajna, after installing a golden statue in Sita’s place, Valmiki brought Sita and her sons and turned them over to Rama.

Being suspected again by Rama, Sita entered the fissure created by goddess Earth to whom Sita had prayed.

Then, as bid by Rama, the citizens of Ayodhya and the monkeys drowned in the holy waters of Sarayu, left their bodied and went to heaven.

Then, Bharata and Satrughna obtained their original form. Rama too left his mortal body and entered his abode.

This story of Rama is narrated by me, a dim wit. The virtuous and learned men may carefully examine and rectify (where necessary) and accept this work.
